A LETTER FROM THE CEO

Dear Supporters and Community Partners,

As we look back at another year, we recognize the challenges that we faced as an organization and the successes we had. Some of our accomplishments in 2023 evolved around implementing national standards, bringing on more deeply affordable housing units, and improving access to care.

National Standards

2023 was a year that was marked by our implementation of behavioral health best practices. First, we pursued national CARF accreditation. After sustained work, we were awarded a three-year accreditation (the highest status awarded). This large undertaking had us implement over 1500 CARF standards agency-wide! Second, we continued to implement the Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinic (CCBHC) standards. Finally, our clubhouse program in Tooele County, New Reflection House, was awarded a three-year accreditation by Clubhouse International. Again, this is the highest award level offered.

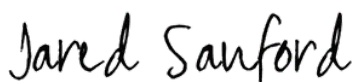

Deeply Affordable Housing

Valley Behavioral Health not only offers behavioral health treatment and support services, Valley offers over 200 units of deeply affordable housing. After a prolonged absence in bringing on more deeply affordable housing units, Valley has made it a priority to develop more deeply affordable housing. In 2023, we started on that journey by opening our first new deeply affordable housing program in more than 20 years. Valley Oaks is a 29-unit housing program that will serve individuals with acute and chronic behavioral health issues and who have a history of homelessness.

Improving Access to Care

One of the most pressing issues that Valley is facing is a shortage of qualified staff to meet the community need for behavioral health services. Even with those staffing challenges we have committed ourselves to reducing barriers to accessing care. In 2023, we implemented a same day access clinic for our outpatient programs. This will allow individuals to walk into our clinic and be assessed and placed into treatment, no appointment needed or waitlist to be placed on.

As we reflect on the accomplishments of 2023, we set our sights on the future with optimism and ambition. The coming year presents new opportunities for growth, collaboration, and impact. I am confident that we will overcome any challenges and achieve new milestones. I am honored to work with so many dedicated employees at Valley, and I look forward to the exciting journey that lies ahead.

Jared Sanford
CEO and President

A WORD FROM THE BOARD CHAIR

Dear Friends of Valley Behavioral Health,

It is my pleasure as Board Chair of Valley Behavioral Health to introduce the annual report for 2023. This report provides a summary of financial and operational data, as well as additional information which provides a more complete picture of what is happening in the organization and how this affects the communities we serve.

Valley aims to serve the most vulnerable in our community and provide exceptional care in efficient and effective ways. This year, the team at Valley continued to seek and implement best practices in the field of behavioral health and improve the ways we connect to our stakeholders, clients, staff, local and state government, and other community partners.

The numbers within this report are only a small reflection of the transformation taking place at Valley. Moving from a post-COVID restricted environment into the future has presented familiar challenges. Among them are workforce shortage issues, sustainable funding, and increasing awareness and demand for behavioral health support. That said, I speak for the entire Board in expressing gratitude for the exceptional work of our staff, leadership team, and community partners. Through their efforts, Valley is able to meet these challenges and provide quality, individualized care every day to those in need.

Sincerely,

John Hanshaw
Chair, Board of Directors
